YEARBOOK STAFF
OF YHS

YUKON HIGH SCHOOL
YUKON, OKLAHOMA

Foreword

YHS students were afforded education and opportunities for participation in beneficial organizations necessary in the preparation for the achievement of their ambitions.

More than spacious halls; classrooms; and a quiet library, students and teachers are remembered as a definite part of YHS in 1967 and '68.

What student could forget how crowded the locker areas were between classes; the frantic rush to the lunch line, and the rousing pep assembly held the week the Millers defeated the Cushing Tigers in their first conference football game of the year? The hours of concentrated effort spent in study will not easily be forgotten either.

With every passing day, personalities were molded by events at YHS. Seniors made important decisions on College Night concerning their future. A newly formed chapter of the National Honor Society became a pace setter in scholarship and service.

The sign of a growing school was evident with the addition of new buildings. Juniors chose to have a standard school ring, and plans for a school seal were started.

The guidance and growth of youth was realized at YHS.

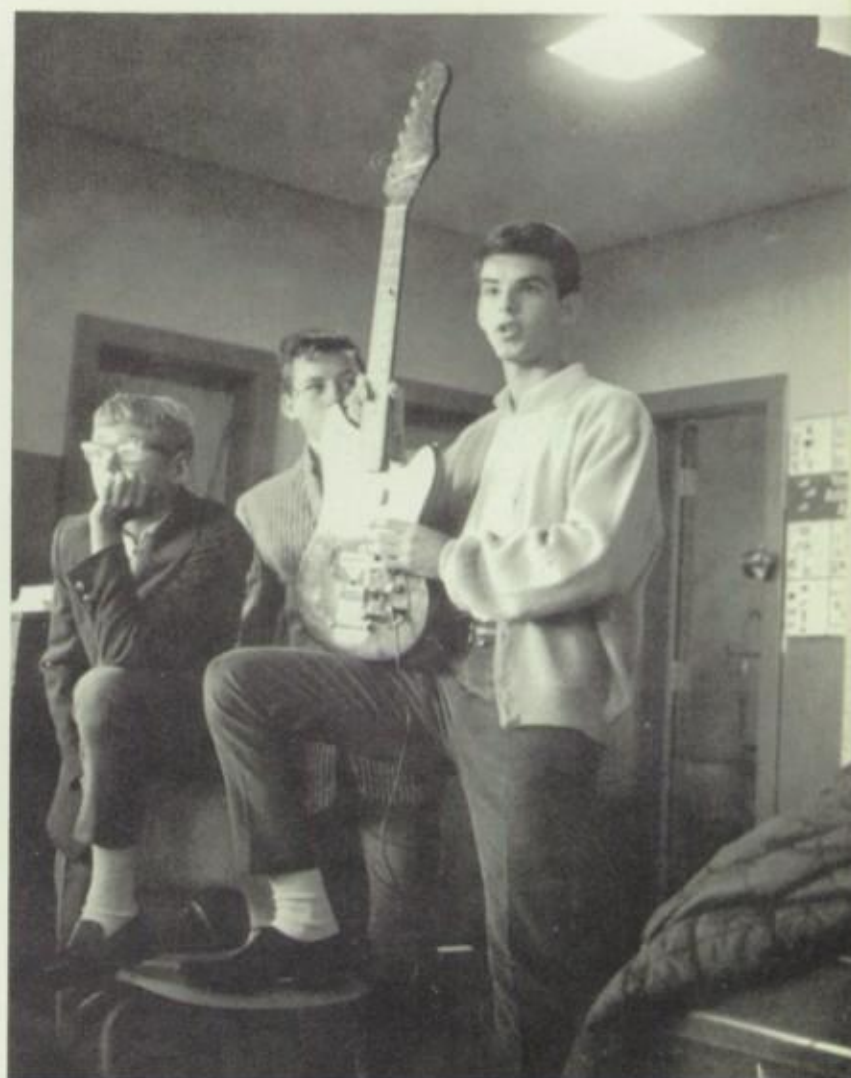

STUDENTS employed their talents, as did Mike Brooks with his artistic ability.

YHS is . . . its students

CONGESTION in the girls' locker area is inevitable between classes.

ASSEMBLIES were informative, spirited, and entertaining besides a welcomed break in everyone's day.

MR. YEAROUT received a standing ovation from the student body after expressing his sincere concern and appreciation for today's youth.

. . . their vibrant spirit and sure growth

THE PEP CLUB supported athletic teams with enthusiastic spirit.

SOLEMN candidates for the National Honor Society presented lighted candles at their initiation in November.

. . . their assemblies and organizations,

CIRCUS puppets befriended Peggy Kirkigard, alias Lily, in CARNIVAL presented by the vocal department.

THE OUTCOME of rigorous practice sessions was many sore girls and a good powder puff football game sponsored by DECA.

and their academic concentration.

IMPROVED reading ability was the result of earnest study in the reading lab by these seventh graders.

A MICROSCOPIC world was magnified for Linda Santin through the lens of a microscope in biology.

JUNIORS and freshmen will remember the quick and accurate thinking the two days of ITED tests required.

Administration and Faculty

Administration proved invaluable to YHS

MR. BEESON, Superintendent

Serving in the capacity of chief administrator in a continuously growing academic institution, Mr. Beeson's watch words have always been "the training of youth for successful citizens of tomorrow."

Mr. Beeson received his BA Degree from Southwestern State College. He earned his Master of Teaching Degree from Oklahoma University.

Mr. Beeson served in the capacity as a teacher and the junior high and high school principal prior to service as the Superintendent of Yukon public schools for the past six years.

MR. GRAVES, Principal

Don Graves, who has been high school principal at YHS for six years, faces such problems each year as schedule arrangement and enrollment increases.

Before coming to Yukon, Mr. Graves taught in Hobart. He received his BA Degree and Master of Teaching Degree from Southwestern State College.

TEACHERS enjoyed themselves at a faculty Christmas party at the "Captain's Table" restaurant.

Board worked at policy making

BOARD MEMBERS: Glen McKinney, Tony Kirkegard, Dick Ball, Albert Krshka, and Gene Manning.

The general functions of the board of education are obtained from the powers and duties delegated to the board by the state legislature. In relation to the major aspects of the school system, the board of education, working with the superintendent, determines policies and makes the decisions necessary to implement an effective educational program.

GENE HARTSELL—Junior High Principal

Gene Hartsell, junior high school principal, graduated from Central State College with a B.S. Degree and a Master of Teaching Degree. He has also done extensive post graduate work at the University of Oklahoma.

Mr. Hartsell's versatility is apparent in his pre-administrative service as a former coach, teacher, and counselor.

He has been instrumental in developing Yukon's art department and a reading laboratory.

JESSE URTON—Assistant Principal

Jesse Urton was graduated from Southwestern State College with a BA Degree in 1955 and a Master of Teaching Degree in 1964.

Before coming to Yukon he was basketball coach and teacher at El Reno and prior to that at Calumet. He came here as assistant high school principal and social studies teacher in 1967.

His dedication and willingness to serve where needed make him an extremely valuable person in this community.

The language departments tried to give their students something useful in every day life by acquainting them with the language, customs and cultures of the foreign countries. Different English classes studied and wrote plays, short stories, poetry, and term reports.

Team teaching was the form of instruction given in the new reading lab. The lab is well equipped with apparatus, including program readers, tapes, and head phones.

MR. BRILEY'S interpretation of "Macbeth" was given to English IV students.

Mathematics students learned everything from geometric proofs to integral calculus to factoring polynomials. The various courses in mathematics helped prepare college bound students for future work in this field.

New textbooks in the chemistry and biology departments, and new lab equipment provided by YHS were noticeable signs of progress in the science department this year. The new equipment enabled students to better understand their work by making more individual lab work possible.

CHEMISTRY AND biology classes engage in various activities as co-occupants of the science laboratory.

Through the ages man has found a source of learning from the history of the different social structures of the world. He has attempted to teach his children not to make the same mistakes of the previous generation by educating them in the field of social sciences.

Yukon High School and Yukon Junior High School have many different courses to serve this purpose and have emphasized their importances. The social science courses of Yukon Senior and Junior High School are Oklahoma history, American history, world history, civics, sociology, economics, problems of democracy, and psychology.

TEAM TEACHING was introduced at YHS and proved to be an effective method for learning.

WORK produced by the art classes was viewed by L. A. Blue, Steve Whitely, and Mr. Olds.

Guided by the counselor, students searched for the right career, the knowledge needed to reach their goals, and the means by which to do so.

With the help of the librarian, wide use of the library enabled the students to develop the practice of selective, critical reading.

In art classes students developed their creative abilities.

As the speech department increased in size, accomplishments of the department grew also as students gained experience in presenting themselves to an audience.

Through band and vocal, students obtained a better understanding of music. Performances throughout the year also gave them practice and experience in playing and singing before people.

The business department of Yukon High School is concerned with preparing students to go into the business world and earn a living.

Typewriting I and II, shorthand, and bookkeeping courses aimed to give all college bound students and students planning to make business careers for themselves, a basic background in business education.

Through "Opportunities Unlimited" in FHA, girls move into the mainstream of full citizenship and contribute to a meaningful family life in any community.

Vocational Distributive Education, now in its third year as a part of the YHS curriculum, consists of three parts; (1) classwork, (2) on-the-job training and (3) DECA, the club program.

The Future Farmers of America, consisting of forty-five members, moved into their new vocational agriculture building in January.

TYPING I classes learned that speed and accuracy come with concentration.

NUTRITIONALLY balanced meals were prepared daily by YHS cooks.

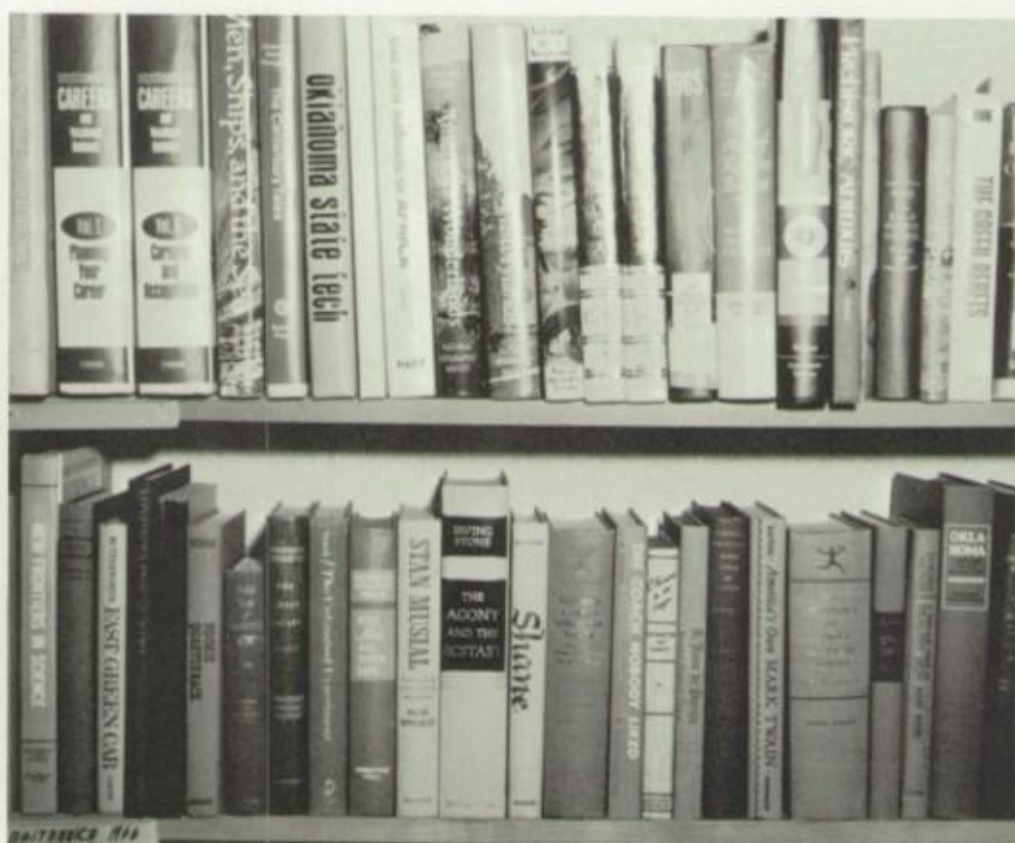

CLEAN UPKEEP of YHS was credited to custodians R. E. Kastner and Charles Luschen.

JUNIOR HIGH custodians Buck Rose and Clarence Alberts kept the junior high building in good condition.

MISS WOOD proudly displayed the rose given to her on her birthday.

FAMILIAR with any of these? Occasionally classes were held in the library.

Educators motivated ambition

OPPORTUNITY for better acquaintance and shared anticipation arrived with the teacher reception in August.

A LAUGH in the lounge was welcomed relaxation in a day of Mr. Randolph, Mr. DeVilbiss, Mr. Huckaba, and Mr. Moore.

With both anticipation and a new feeling of "superiority," the senior class of '68 enrolled at YHS in the fall of 1967. The end of twelve fruitful years in sight, graduation was an expectation involving mixed emotions. Caught between an uncertain future and a fading past, these students determined the present by serving YHS through their academic, athletic, and fine arts abilities.

in vocal production "Carnival"

ONE of Mrs. Mollet's "finer" sophomore classes was her sixth hour English II class.

PUTTING their "artistic" ability to some use were Patsy Bryan, Sandra Oliver, and Sharon Randall who applied the finishing touches to a car for the "Decorate Your Car Day" which was held during Spirit Week at YHS.

WORKING "hard" and demonstrating their ability to use their study hall period wisely were, sophomores Mark Taylor, Jimmy Garretson, and Tommy Krshka.

Action was abundant at YHS

MISS LOAFMAN'S birthday was celebrated with parties given by her book-keeping classes.

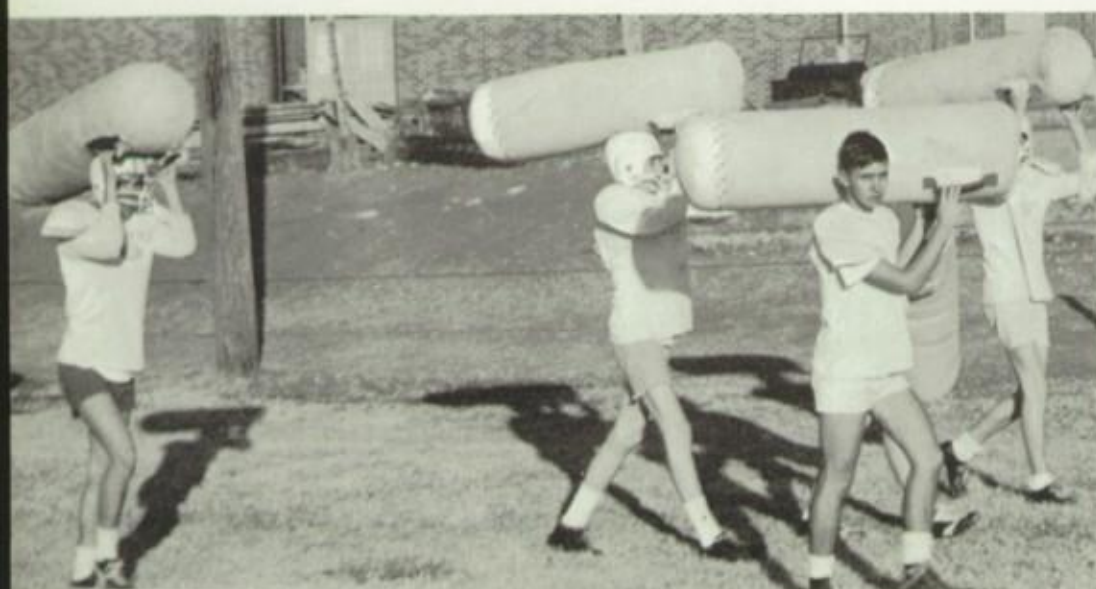

MR. AND MRS. BRILEY, Mrs. Ownby, and Mr. Graves enjoyed the food and fellowship at the teacher's banquet.

COLLEGE NIGHT was beneficial fun for seniors including Kathy Olds, Terry Halbert, Martha Meek, Sandy Kamitchis, and David Jones.

SHOP CLASSES worked well with wood as the fifth hour class exhibited.

NEW members of the football team were thoroughly initiated.

DURING Red and White Week Suzy Kamitchis, Vicki Long, Cathy Pichurko, and Mary Parizek proved their spirited support for YHS.

vey, Shirley Pendleton, Sandy Skinner, Mrs. Villarreal. THIRD ROW: Tommy Krshka, Johnny Long, Steve Sherry, Tommy Dorsey, Jim Villarreal, Bill Ayers, Mike Brooks, David McCurdy.

"Blast-off Week" initiated the year's Student Council activities. Students were introduced to the purposes and requirements for membership of all clubs and organizations of YHS in daily ten minute assemblies. For the first time the junior high was included in the student directories insuring a wider use of the directories. Other Student Council activities of '67-68 included Teacher Reception Day, dress-up day, the annual Christmas tree, teacher appreciation day, the talent show and National School Assemblies and chapels.

Officers of the 1967-68 Student Council were Robert Jensen, president; Phil Stone, vice-president; Sherry King, secretary; Connie Maier, chaplain; Janice Burchard, secretary of specials; Sue McCumber, corresponding secretary; Mike Brooks, reporter; and Terry Halbert, treasurer.

The council was sponsored by Mrs. Villarreal.

JANICE BURCHARD, Connie Maier, and Sherry King helped to decorate the annual Christmas tree.

Council sponsored varied projects at YHS

STUDENTS such as Lyle McClure, Rosie Stratton, and Jerry Beaty, helped to make assemblies sponsored by the Council great successes.

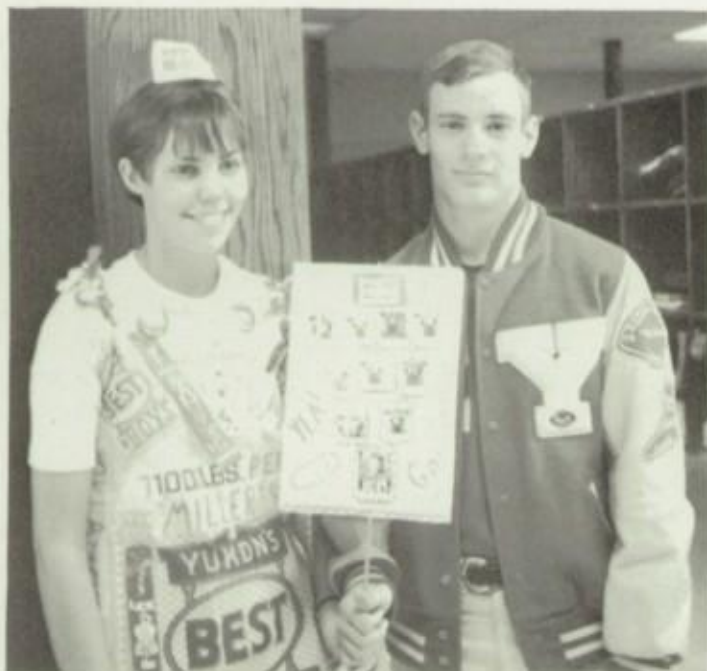

PHIL STONE, Connie Maier, Sherry King, and Robert Jensen attended the State Student Council Workshop at Edmond last summer.

OFFICERS of the 1968 Student Council were: SEATED: Janice Burchard, secretary of specials; Sherry King, recording secretary; Connie Maier, chaplain; Sue McCumber, corresponding secretary. STANDING: Terry Halbert, treasurer; Robert Jensen, president; Phil Stone, vice-president.

SUZY KAMITCHIS and MIKE BROOKS were chosen as Miss and Mr. Spirit of YHS.

MARYHELEN WALPOLE won the prize for the best car decorations during Spirit Week.

MEMBERS of FHA and Student Council greeted teachers and guests at the Teacher Reception Day.

MISS WOOD, Mr. Guy, Terry Halbert, David Jones, and Monti Sue Smith played "You Don't Say" in a benefit assembly sponsored by the Student Council.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Future Homemakers of America is the national organization for high school home economics students. In Oklahoma, there are 17,600 members in 365 chapters. With the objective of improving personal, home, and community living, FHA members have many opportunities for service. Through the efforts of FHA, members are becoming more conscious of good health, the potential of each person for development, the role of the family and the good family relationships in community and world living, the importance of morals and manners, the responsibility to neighbors near and far, the importance of good management, the value of good citizenship, and the careers and jobs available through home economics training.

DECA . . .

Deca broadened horizons for

DIANE MONKS and Jerry Whitaker exhibited the finer points of business display.

This was the third year for Vocational Distributive Education in Yukon High School. Thanks to the cooperation of the business community and the efforts of hard-working DE students, it is becoming better understood and even traditional at YHS.

Window displays, sales demonstrations, vocational surveys, and even a bit of psychology and self-analysis all combine to prevent the DE classroom from becoming merely routine daily tasks.

Club activities were kept rolling by formal monthly meetings at a local restaurant, with special committee meetings in between. Fund raising for DE students was "natural," since salesmanship was a major part of their training. DECA has already succeeded in making the Powder Puff Football activities an annual event each fall. Food for needy families at Thanksgiving and a Christmas party for orphans have also become standard projects for DECA.

In March came the state conference and contests, a three-day event held at the Sheraton-Oklahoma Hotel in Oklahoma City. The students who went participated in retailing contests, or entered their class projects into state competition. Winners of state went to the national conference in Chicago. Yukon was represented in Chicago this past year when James Huffman was elected State Parliamentarian.

The year was not complete for DE students until the Employers' Appreciation Banquet had been staged. This night bosses were honored in first-class style to show appreciation for their cooperation during the year.

DE is not for all students, but for the student whose interests lie in retailing, salesmanship, marketing or business management, it is the only thing.

The Yukon FFA chapter again brought home many honors and awards this year.

Members exhibited two state Grand Champions, one National Champion, and one District Champion. The livestock judging team placed fifth at Stillwater, third at the Oklahoma City Spring show and fourth at the State Fair of Oklahoma. Approximately 78 teams were entered at each event.

Mark Taylor exhibited the Grand Champion Shorthorn female at the Oklahoma City State Fair and the Tulsa State Fair.

Roger Bornemann showed the champion and reserve champion Berkshire barrows at the American Royal at Kansas City. He also had the champion pen of three barrows.

Bernard Wiedemann exhibited the champion Berkshire at Enid, which was the third straight year Yukon has had the championship.

Tom Kastl was awarded the State Farmer Degree at the State FFA Convention.

THIS was the first class in the new vocational agriculture building which was occupied by the agriculture boys at midsemester.

NEW agriculture building was massive, durable and well equipped.

highlight of year

MODERN equipment was used throughout the new building. Sophomore agriculture boys demonstrated the new hand washer.

YHS FFA instructor Mac DeVilbiss assisted Chuck Stewart, as he trimmed one of his steers in preparation for the 16th Annual Yukon Jr. Livestock Show.

This year the F.T.A. studied the current trends and philosophies of education drawn from the O.E.A. and N.E.A. journals. They also continued a study of these seven cardinal principles of education: (1) Health, (2) Command of fundamental processes, (3) Worthy home membership, (4) Vocation, (5) Citizenship, (6) Worthy use of leisure, and (7) Ethical character.

F.T.A. officers were Carolyn Conine, reporter; Sherry King, treasurer; David McCurdy, chaplain; Kathy Olds, president; Carol Winton, secretary; and Rosie Stratton, sophomore vice-president. Not pictured is Carolyn McPherson, junior vice-president.

THESPIANS . . .

Members put drama and comedy into plays

There were about sixty members who belonged to Thespians. Each student had to earn many points before he could belong. These points were earned by appearing in plays, duets, and giving speeches. The members attended worthwhile shows and plays and studied the appreciation of the fine arts.

OFFICERS of Thespians were Kathy Olds, Secretary; Joe McKinney, Vice President; Carol Winton, Treasurer; Nancy Newman, President.

Staffers put hours of work into yearbook

CONNIE MAIER, assistant editor, and Janice Burchard, editor, worked hard to make the 68 MILLER a yearbook of which one could be proud.

MARK ENOS, advertising editor, and his assistant, Sherry King, put their salesmanship abilities to work in selling ads for the yearbook.

NANCY FITZMORRIS, sports editor, and Dennis Watson, her assistant, devoted time and work to football, basketball, and other YHS sports pages in the yearbook.

DONNA WHITE, assistant feature editor, and Kay Cavener, feature editor, worked on organization and various activity pages in the yearbook.

SEVERAL class pages for the yearbook were organized by Vicki Long, assistant class editor, and Sandy Skinner, class editor.

VICKI EDWARDS and Johnny Long were the first sophomores to be on the yearbook staff.

SEATED: Mr. E. Black, Sandy Skinner, Mark Enos, Janice Burchard, Kay Cavener, and Nancy Fitzmorris. STANDING: Lynn Eeds, Vicki Edwards, Donna Meade, Vicki Long, Sherry King, Connie Maier, Donna White, Johnny Long, and Dennis Watson.

Yearbook staff consisted of fourteen members; five seniors, five juniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen. They were chosen by the staff with the advice of the teachers and sponsors.

Building a yearbook requires a lot of time and work. The staff generally met the last hour of the day every day for six months.

As the school grew the number of yearbooks increased about one hundred books a year.

Building the yearbook was not all work. The students enjoyed an hour of informal working together. They had an occasional party and in the spring the staff went to the city for a dinner.

YEARBOOK staff wasn't all work. Sherry King's birthday provided the perfect excuse for a party.

JOURNALISM . . .

Journalism staff participated in writers

CAROLYN CONINE was editor of the YHS Scene, second semester.

Performing the task of keeping the school and community informed on the happenings of YHS has been the responsibility of YHS's journalism staff.

The journalism staff collected news for the Scene. Spreads on all departments at YHS appeared in the paper. The objective: to acquaint the community with the curriculum at high school.

Journalism's purpose is to give students an understanding of newspaper writing. The Scene brightened the halls on Thursdays and brought news to the student body.

MISS WOOD'S DOOR, decorated by Gail Havard and Janis Walkingstick, won the door decoration contest sponsored by journalism.

JOURNALISM students worked hard on writing stories for the Scene.

The pep club was organized in 1910 in Yukon High School. The purpose of this organization is to promote school spirit and to actively demonstrate support of the Yukon athletic teams. The pep club attended every football game regardless of weather and the majority of the basketball games.

The pep club sponsored a spring banquet to honor the members of the athletic squads. At this event the pep club beau was announced. The club also planned and presented the football and basketball queen ceremonies.

This year the cheerleaders participated in a clinic at OU. The club also expanded its activities to include collection of funds for the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

BECKY RICE topped the pyramid of cheerleaders. Other cheerleaders were Denise Tidwell, Gail Elkins, Gwen Dawson, Linda Ping, Sandy Kamitchis, and Sue McCumber.

ALAN BRAKEFIELD was the 1968 Drum Major for the YHS Band.

This was truly a year of the "new" for the Yukon High School Band. A new band director, a new band room, and new uniforms helped to make a new beat in the music department. As the band struck up, a number of people were known to have said, "Is that the Yukon Band?"

The band entered the District Contest at Weatherford, the Edmond Invitorial Festival and the Moore Junior High Festival.

Yukon may be proud of its budding artists. Not only are there quite a few exceptional young artists in high school, but the junior high and grade schools are loaded with talent.

The high school art club kicked off the school year by doing a very fine mural on the outer wall of the foreign exhibits building at the state fair. Yukon's effort was vastly superior to most of the murals by other schools.

At the home football games, the punch of the football team was tested by the construction of a huge 9' x 9' paper pep mural for the football team to break through. Many hours of work by all art students contributed to this project a noteworthy representation of Yukon's art department at work.

Probably the finest service the art students turned this year was the teaching in the grades. More than one grade school youngster was visibly impressed by the burly YHS football player who came into the grades to show how to draw a Santa Claus.

Cottonwood Manor was decorated for Christmas by all art students. Then there was the Christmas mural for the Junior high. Junior high artists demonstrated their ability to do mural work and teach in the grades, too.

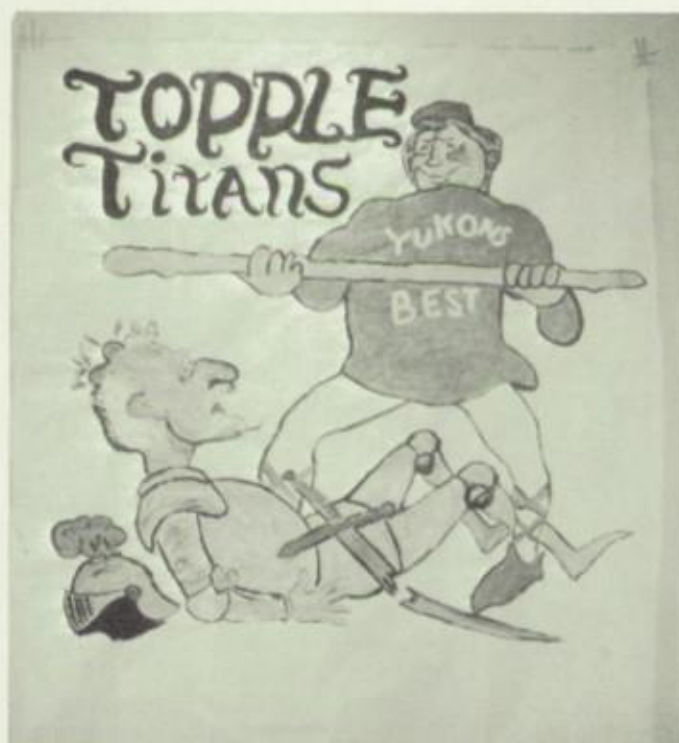

The art club, which is in reality the entire high school art student body, has taken an active role in the proposition "How can we best serve our school?"

Yukon has much to look forward to as these young artists grow.

Broadway musical Carnival

A person does not have to be a trained musician to participate in music. Vocal music gives a person with little talent in music an opportunity to learn through the association with more-talented students. They get experience in poise, audience appreciation, the aesthetic values, and a hobby for their leisure time. Also, it gives a chance to make a profitable living for the professional.

The vocal music students attended many festivals and contests. The high school attended the Weatherford Festival and the Edmond Music Festival. A spring concert was given by the high school vocal department.

One of the highlights of the year was the presentation of the Broadway musical "Carnival." The vocal department and the band presented one of the most inspiring Christmas programs in the history of the Yukon schools.

JANE PATTERSON and Lonnie Muse held leading parts in the "Carnival" production.

OFFICERS OF high school vocal were: seated, D. Watson, reporter; L. Muse, librarian; standing, P. Jones, president; P. Kirkegard, vice president; M. Mach, secretary; S. Lee, treasurer; and C. Cox, librarian.

Another highly successful football season was achieved by the 1967 Yukon Miller football team. They succeeded in defending the district 4-A championship which they won last year. The Millers have yet to lose a district game since becoming a member of the 4-A district.

Although they were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the state championship play-offs by Lindsay, the Millers were again this year one of Oklahoma's most powerful Class A teams.

At the beginning of the year the Yukon team was comprised of inexperienced players. As a result, the team lost three of the first four games they played. However, they showed improvement in each game as the season progressed, and they finished the regular season with a rush, winning five of their final six games, and the last four games in a row. Their final season's record was six victories against four losses.

As evidence of the high calibre of players developed on the team this season, nine members were selected to the "All District" team, three members were named to the "Little All City" team, and one was picked to the All State team selected by both the Tulsa World and the Daily Oklahoman, while a second was named to the "All State" alternate team.

Players from Yukon selected to the "All District" team were: David McCurdy, and Terry Fiala, ends; Chuck Stewart, tackle; Obert Heilaman and Zack Smith, guards; Mike Schoshke, Robert Jensen, Eddie Elkins, and Johnny Johnson, backs.

Named to the "Little All City" team were: Robert Jensen, Obert Heilaman and Terry Fiala. Robert Jensen was selected for the "All State" team, and Terry Fiala was named to the "All State" alternate team.

the district 4-A championship title

LARGELY responsible for another great year of Miller football were: Mr. Huckaba, head coach; Mr. Moore and Mr. Randolph, assistant coaches; Mr. Beeson, superintendent of Yukon Schools; and Mr. Graves, high school principal.

The 1967-68 seniors on the basketball A team, Robert Jensen, Obert Heilaman, Terry Halbert, Mike Schoshke, Eddie Elkins, and Terry Fiala finished the year in grand style by annexing their second district championship trophy in three years. During their four years of competition, they have either won or were runners-up in eight tournaments. This is probably one of the best four year records in the history of the school.

MIKE SCHOSHKE (44) executed an outstanding play while under heavy guard from the opposing team.

The 1967-68 Yukon Miller basketball team completed one of the most successful seasons since 1943. The Millers finished with a 15-9 record against some of the toughest double-A competition in central Oklahoma, although Yukon is rated as a class A team. The team won the District basketball tournament, third place in the Central State tournament, and also won the Bethany Invitational Tournament. The Bethany victory marked the first time in twenty-five years that the Millers had won an out of town invitational tournament.

Terry Halbert was named to the Metro-Conference All-Star team. Robert Jensen was named to the Little All-City team and Terry Halbert, was named to the All-State team.

Mr. Ron Moore and Mr. Merlyn Randolph are to be congratulated for a fine job they have done in molding this basketball team into a top-flight, hustling, thrilling school representative.

The charter year for the National Honor Society in Yukon High School was 1967-68. NHS is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The organization calls for the highest achievement in four areas—scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The members are required to have a grade average of B or above. They are selected by the entire faculty according to the other three requirements. The charter initiation was held in the cafetorium by Putnam City NHS. A reception followed. Parents and faculty attended. The officers of NHS attended the state convention at Moore this year.

The NHS sponsored Christmas telegrams to raise money to pay for their charter. Although NHS is a young organization, the members have many ideas for projects for this and next year.

NHS OFFICERS — SEATED: David McCurdy, president; Shirley Pendleton, secretary; STANDING: Sid Vaught, treasurer; Terry Halbert, vice-president.

CHRISTMAS at YHS was a time for the Christmas program in which Kathy Willis gave a touching reading.

YHS TURNED out some good athletes as shown by Robert Jensen as he signed his Letter of Intent to OU while Coach Huckaba and Gomer Jones, Athletic Director at OU, looked on.

YHS . . . people and their education

LAST MINUTE preparations for the annual Christmas tea for FHA were made by Mary Jane Mach, Janice Burchard, and Becky Krshka.

OFTEN BETWEEN classes students and teachers, such as Sid Vaught and Mrs. Villareal, could be seen chatting, depicting the good student-teacher relations at YHS.

YHS BAND, lead by Mr. Hunt, contributed to the school spirit of Yukon by performing in pep assemblies and at football games.

PEP RALLIES were made interesting by many skits such as this one performed by Kathy Olds, Donita McCumber, Mary Helen Walpole, and Linda Hollman.

WITH THE beginning of school came a new group of 7th graders to Yukon Junior High.

NEW ROOM cheered 7th graders as they studied history.

FUN AND interest in science was created by a new laboratory.

Responsible leadership a great credit to YJHS

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL — SEATED: Mrs. Pitts, sponsor, J. Rott, S. Cornwell, B. Burris, J. Villarreal, L. Eeds. STANDING:

W. White, K. Addington, D. Heilaman, J. Posey, C. Yates, A. Yates, and J. Cooper.

"Perfection lies not in doing extraordinary things, but in doing ordinary things extraordinarily well." Insuring a happy school year by promoting excellent relationships throughout the school, a smoothly running school, plus very fine school spirit was the responsibility with which this vital organization was successful. This year's activities showed democracy at work. All major decisions concerning the student body were participated in by council members, selected by the student body. Four members were elected from each class. From this group the officers were chosen. The council handled these elections.

This group initiated several projects to earn money and serve the school. Two of these were sales of candy and school color sports pennants.

The Student Council maintained a constant flow of service to the student body and the school, and developed a sense of responsibility among its members. Some projects have been completed; others will continue from year to year.

OFFICERS for the Student Council were J. Rott, vice-president; S. Cornwell, president; B. Burris, secretary; J. Villarreal, treasurer.

Future Homemakers of America is organized on the local, state, and national level with eight purposes to guide and serve as inspiration. Its over-all goal is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. Some activities FHA was involved in were: an August luncheon planning meeting; enrollment of students; semi-formal initiation of new members; public installation of officers; parent-daughter reception; remodeling toys for the orphans home for Christmas; decorations for the all-school Christmas tree; presenting fruit cakes to chapter parents as Christmas remembrances; buying a silver coffee and tea service with the money raised in the money making project; providing refreshments for open house; having a talent show; sponsoring a school beautification project; sponsoring and participating in a good health week; participating in the August teacher conference, sub-district planning meeting; sub-district meeting; and local monthly executive and chapter meetings.

their future home life

SHIRLEY CORNWELL, Glenda McKinney and Dorothy Drain are three of the officers who helped make the home economics cottage ready for the coming year.

BECKY BILLINGS and Myrna Johnson presented a demonstration on making chocolate chip cookies.

CAROLYN WRIGHT prepared to leave for the Sub-District Rally at Chickasha where she led a discussion group on Teen Times.

SHIRLEY CORNWELL served Mr. Kennedy from the new silver service at the teachers reception.

JENNY WILLIS and Nina Heilaman helped repair the toys that the chapter donated to the Concho Indian School at Christmas.

Efforts at contests met with success

OFFICERS of "B" vocal were J. Popp, President; S. Pivniska, Vice President; J. Rott, Secretary; K. Wade, Treasurer; C. Langston, Reporter; D. McKinney, L. McWilliams, P. Singleton, Librarians.

VOCAL members had dress rehearsals for the Broadway musical, "Carnival."

WITH PIANO accompaniment Mr. Dugan led many practice sessions.

The Junior High vocal department presented many numbers at school assemblies and programs for special occasions. This enabled the student to learn and appreciate the values of music.

They helped present the Broadway Musical "Carnival." They attended music festivals at Putnam City and El Reno. The highlight of the year was the Christmas program presented at the Junior High.

Beginning music while in Junior High helped the student to prepare for a professional career in music or to enjoy music in later life.

"A" VOCAL mixed quartet consisted of Scott Enos, Barbara Yarbrough, Lynn Eeds, and Brad Adams.

Active group strived for

The Yukon Junior High Pep Club was a volunteer organization, and the membership roll showed that 150 girls were behind the Millers. The Pep Club sold Halloween candy as a fund raising project this year. The officers Dianne Burris, Becky Billings, and Cathy Sherry helped launch the sale. They were assisted by the football cheerleaders Glenda McKinney, Shirley Cornwell, Dorothy Drain, Debbie Bohannon, Paula Chilcote, Cinthia Smith, and Chris Kiehlbauch. The basketball cheerleaders Debbie Trent, Denise Fiala, Vicki Mogg, Janice Wilkins, and Patti Piersall boosted the candy sales. These girls worked hard to promote more school spirit for supporting the Millers.

PEP CLUB supported the teams by attending the games.

The winning football tradition of the Yukon Jr. High Millers was continued this school year. During the past 10 years the Jr. Millers have won 66 games, tied 2, and lost 12. Five of these years have been undefeated. Six of the 12 games lost were during one year.

The victorious Jr. Millers have helped set a precedent, which has been reflected in the over-all outstanding record of the Sr. Millers.

Coaches Dorman Griffin and Jack Smith have done an outstanding job and are extremely proud of the Millers 7 wins and 1 loss record.

During this year, school spirit was at a new high. The co-operative efforts of teachers, students, administration and 200 pep club girls was also a major factor in another successful season.

ALL boys listened intently as the coach instructed them to victory.

FASHIONS for the emancipated man.

IT'S the principal of the whole thing!

KISSIN' cousins.

BAN takes the worry out of being close.

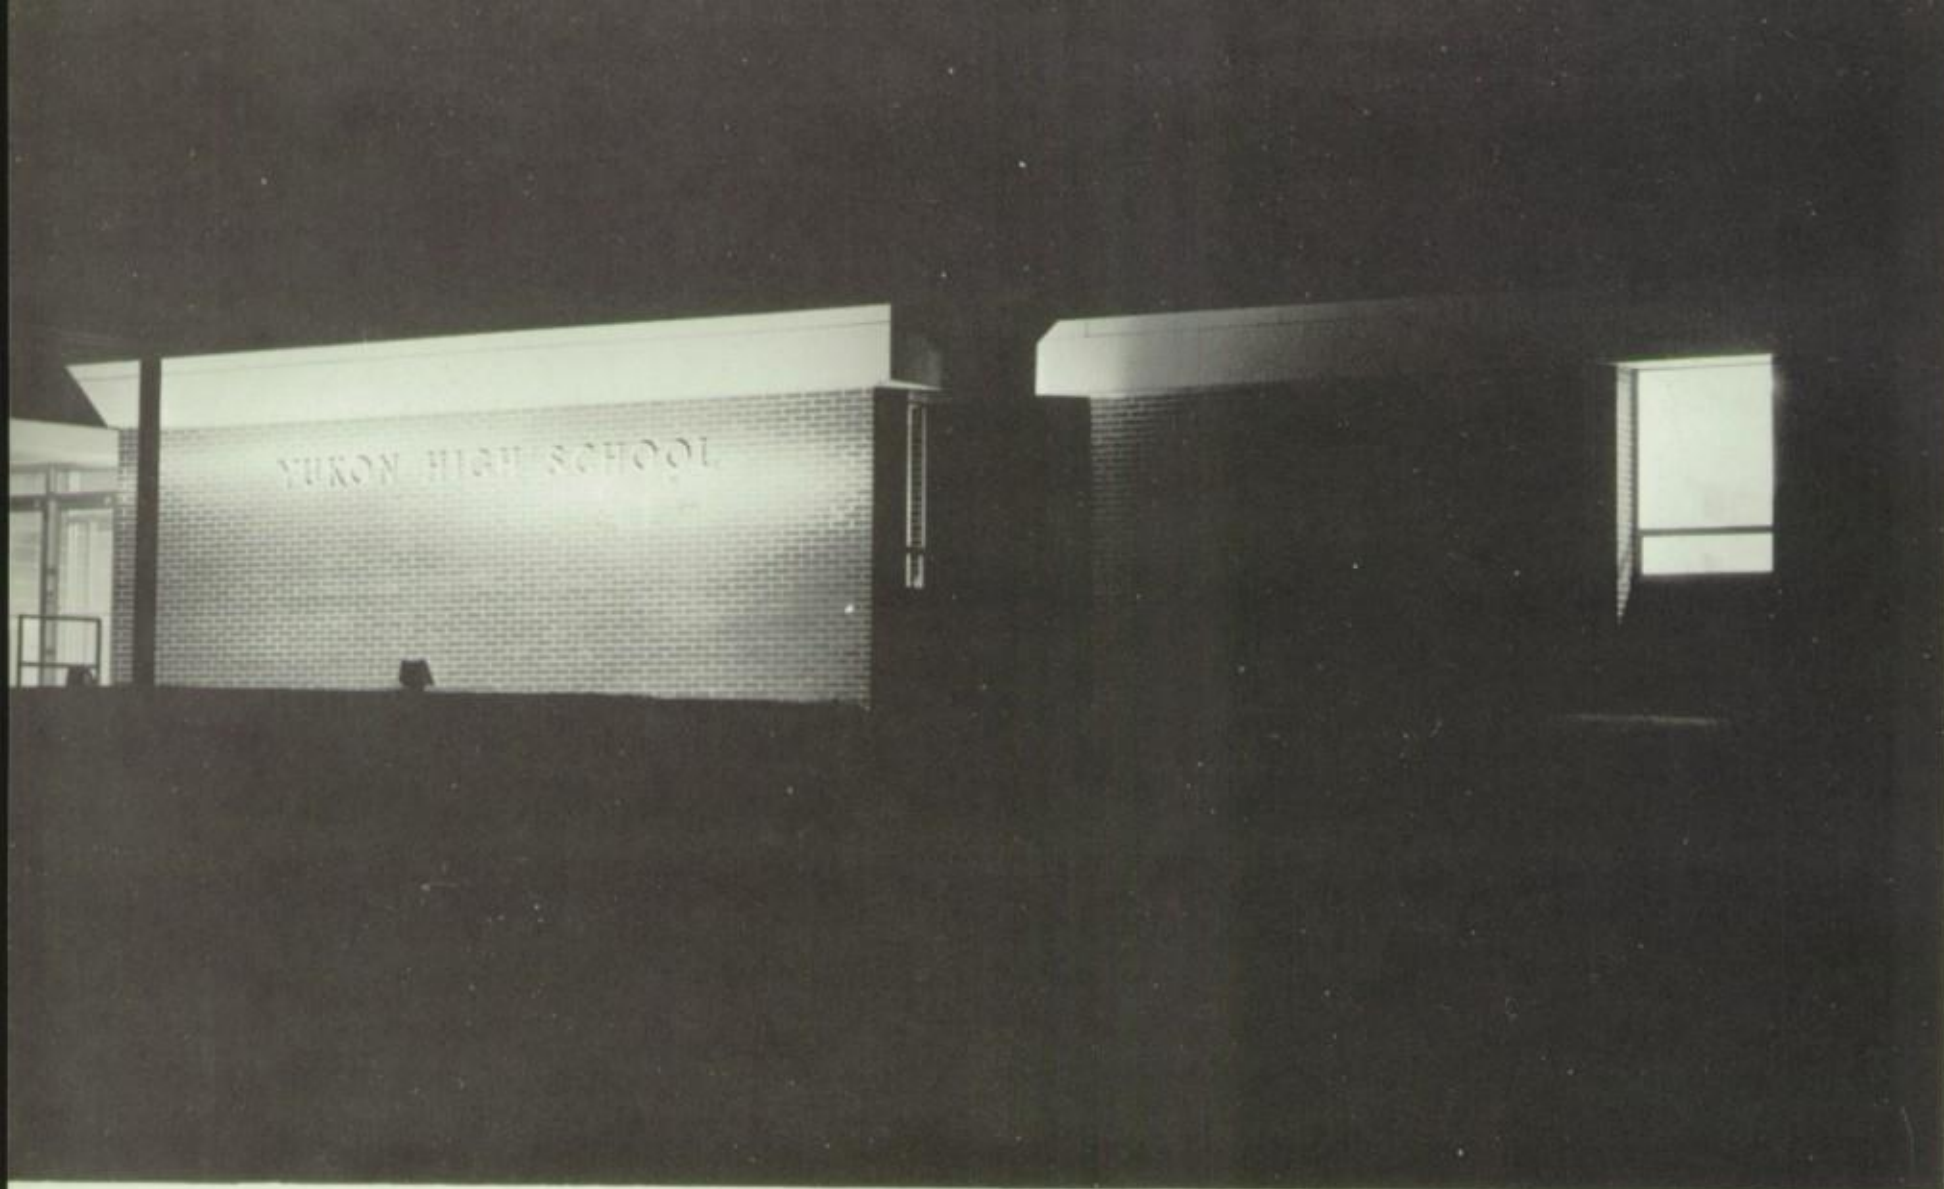

WHAT? No presents?

COWBOY Shoeky rides again!

HAIL! HAIL! The gang's all here!

Wavering clarity does not fade
When securely preserved are the memories made.
May your happiness be insured with pleasant memories.
